A party giving heavy majorities to every Republican candidate. We feel sure that the editors of the various papers in which this column appears will permit us to use this opportunity and space to express to the voters of the Seventh District, and especially our friends who worked so energetically in our behalf, our sincere appreciation of the splendid vote we received. We consider the results as more of a tribute to our friends who made them possible than to us personally.

The Republican trend at the general election was in evidence in every nook and cranny of the land, but especially in the farm areas of the Middle West. Dissatisfaction with the conduct of the war, discontent with the increasing rationing program, resentment over further regimentation, frustration over the treatment given farmers, and opposition to the radical tendencies in the domestic affairs of the government, were contributing factors in bringing about the heavy Republican gains.

In the thirty-three gubernatorial contests this year the Republicans won in seventeen states, the Democrats in thirteen, and the Progressives in one, with two contests still in as this is written. The election of Thomas E. Dewey as Governor of New York and the reelection of John W. Bricker in Ohio, by huge majorities, centers attention on them for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1944. Already some of the political wisecracks are predicting that the next Republican national ticket will be Bricker and Dewey, or Dewey and Bricker.

NO NEED OF KEEPING BOOKS—SAYS ENGLAND

The Honorable Gen. Walter Vennings comes over from England to join the English brigade that is milking this nation for war supplies and food and incidentally keeping the White House "informed as to the progress of the war." Sir Walter suggests to the New Deal that we throw away our books so far as keeping account of what it costs us to produce and ship all these supplies to England under that famous "lend-lease."

Of course England never intended to pay any part of the war cost, no more to us than to Canada or any other nation. She refused to pay us for her share in the First World War and we taxed ourselves to lift the debt to those who purchased the Liberty bonds back in those days. We are up against the old baggage game with the White House Mistress over in England gathering the items of need and MONEY that we will be expected to send over on her return.

Gen. Vennings said: "He saw nothing to be gained by continuing the present system of keeping accounts of aid rendered and aid received." It was only a few months ago that the British gave orders to the White House to send no more hams unless the bone had been extracted. By eliminating the bone, probably King George thought he would not owe this nation so much, even if we had to purchase the bone from the farmer to get the ham. As for the aid received the only thing this nation gets from England or her possessions are wool, in competition with American wool, and Scotch liquor. Keeping us supplied with the latter is a very necessary thing with the New Dealers. Now Roosevelt proposes free trade with all nations as a "war necessity." Argentine stands back on war issues until we agree to take her beef tariff free. This hits the American farmer square between the eyes. The farmer is one atom of our social-make up today that is in very poor standing at the Capital.

With the nation rationed on sugar, coffee, gasoline, rubber, meat, milk and butter, all the sacrifice being made on this side of the Atlantic, it takes a lot of "sidekick guts" to even suggest that we "keep no books." Meantime the American public from the single man who makes around $9 a week is to be forced to file income tax returns and pay a tax to "lend-lease" England. The farmer has had his prices on live stock streamlined yet he also must pay a tax to keep the followers of the "limited monarchy," now termed a democracy, sweet with the White House occupants from Hyde Park.

Word comes from our "boys over there" that the English sting them on everything they purchase, even to the ham and-witch made from "lend-lease meat." What the veteran of the First World War says of his treatment in England is no different than what we hear today.

We are now providing more than a million men for England's war ranks thousands of tanks and all kind of war craft, to say nothing of feeding her people. If saving democracy means anything to the world it means more to England than has been in wars defensive and offensive for five hundred years. Most of her possessions having been taken by force. She is today the only nation that profits by human slavery upon an undisciplined people. In the face of all this the American people are asked to "throw away" our books and keep no account of what is owed us. All we are to get out of it is sacrifice and payment of heavy taxes into the third and fourth generations.

We have but two more years until the nation can pass on the question of repayment of war debts. The election last Tuesday may have had "lend-lease" in mind at the polls. If it will turn the Washington Communists out in two years—all it costs us in taxes and self-sacrifice will be cheap in the long run. At least it will eliminate "English rule" in America.

The War of 1916-18 was not the First World War and this is not the Second for we have been having wars periodically from Bible history times down to the present and we are not now fighting the last war. Only future generations will prevent future wars. The selfishness and greed for economic control of world trade is the basis of the present war. War is the inevitable result of selfishness and greed among nations. We wonder what Americans think of the map published in a London paper months ago showing the next World War would be fought on the North American continent. With England WAR is a business based on the experience of hundreds of years of fighting. The same can be said of Germany now as in the past.

"IFS" ABOUT COFFEE

Pressed to make it plain that pending rationing of coffee is not just another one of those bureaucratic things with which the public has long since become fed, WPB Chief Donald M. Nelson, says coffee "might" be released in greater quantities to customers, "if" shipping improves and "if" the arrivals of coffee and supplies in the United States are sufficient.

This leaves the matter exactly where it was, except that Nelson has implied necessity, and not the desire of some bureaucrat, brought about the rationing plan in the first place. In turn, this means that those inveterate coffee toppers who face the future with a sense of impending loss, might as well not build up hopes for early relief.

Granted that coffee rationing was made necessary by a shortage of shipping facilities, it must also be emphasized that the vanishing of the beverage from the grocery shelves was hastened by desires of armies of people to stock up against the future. This is termed hoarding, and coffee isn't by any means the only commodity in which it occurred.

But all that is beside the point now. The plain truth is that after the end of the month, coffee rationing will be on a basis that will permit about one cup per day per person over 15 years of age. That is worse than rationing, in effect; it is downright drouth. And it is not surprising that people are pressing for some thing to be done about it.

However, our shipping situation is no better than it was. We still have a tremendous shortage. A suggestion that coffee be processed in Brazil before it is shipped here has been made, and it could, if adopted, go a long way toward relieving the pending drouth. Processed coffee requires a great deal less shipping space than the green berry. We are powdering milk and eggs we send abroad, to save shipping space. Why not process coffee for the same reason? —Ohio State Journal

HERALD WANT AND SALE ADS PAY

The Chicago Tribune has a very timely cartoon described as follows: July 4, 1776, Independence Day. Sept. 17, 1787, Independence Day. January 1, 1863, Emancipation Day. November 3, 1942, Freedom Day. Enemies of the people routed by the people.

Nutty McNutt, the labor organizer of the New Deal, that would trade posterity for a labor vote and Sec. Wickard, the New Deal farmer, that made his money under the "Old Deal" jumped all over Ed. O'Neal, head of the American Farm Bureau, because he said cotton farmers in Arizona, growers of long staple cotton, because they would not stand for organized farm labor. Nutty McNutt says the imported farm labor must have guaranteed wages, $3.00 a day, eight hours, five days a week, bath, heat of sleeping quarters, and food before they will pick the crop best used for making parachutes. These up-to-date New Dealers must have hot and cold water with heat in the bed rooms. No mention is made of maid service or whether they must have a "night cap" before retiring. It is to be regretted the AAA followers that have been paying their slave labor $3.00 a week and forcing them to bathe in a wash tub cannot have the same advantage of the Mexican peons imported in opposition to American labor. This labor "should not be forced to face the rigor of our winters by the use of the modern New Deal privy. Farmers should be compelled to install the New Deal modern toilet.

The U. S. Supreme Court, rubber stamp, with direct connected phone service with the White House, had no sooner made public the "unanimous decision on the AAA wheat case" until Representative Vinson, Dem., Georgia, announced that he would seek the removal of all government restrictions on basis crops such as wheat, cotton, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco. He will have the support of the Republican delegation, now or with the next Congress.

Every candidate that had the CIO endorsement for election was defeated. This includes Captain (Mr.) Smith, G. H., who was the Sheehan Democratic machine candidate for congress. Last Saturday we chanced to meet a prominent AFL labor union member in Springfield and he took delight in the Smith defeat because the CIO gave him an endorsement. As a result the AFL voted against all the CIO endorsed candidates. He also stated the use of the army uniform while a candidate was more than most voters could stand, even CIO members. Democrats by the hundred in every county voted the Republican ticket as a protest against one in service using his uniform for political purposes. The CIO endorsement by the CIO was the "kiss of death" for Smith.

No precinct in the Seventh District was so plastered with the "so-called Hitler-Brown" posters as around Fairfield and Osborn as well as all of Bath township. It may be strange but each precinct in that territory gave Cong. Brown a majority. Tuesday a resident of Springfield informed us there was open resentment in that village against Smith, a serviceman in uniform and Smith a private citizen. Springfield precincts each gave Brown a majority over the "favorite son". The shock in Clark county where Boss Sheehan was supposed to reign supreme was more than the boss could stand. He has since entered a hospital for a "check-up". The Greene county exponents who used the "isolationist" argument instead of "volunteering themselves" have taken a voyage for the "salt-creek" trip. The boys around the county seat have had much comment to make about the outcome of the election. No one but the Fayette county chap seem to have knowledge about the "Hitler posters". One of them reported in the war department in Washington. Springfield Republicans say the "Hitler" poster greatly aided in putting that county in the Republican column. It helped bring out the AFL vote for straight votes.

An unusual case was heard in a Greene county court this week. Not one of those "behind-the-door" cases but one that was not heard by many spectators, yet a lot of neighborhood folks were present. During the hearing of the testimony one of the county's leading physicians was questioned on important matters that have to do with life. It was one of those rare problems in which there was no need of that famous school-astic "X equals the unknown quantity" for certain admissions made it possible for the attorney to make a direct question that required a "yes or no" answer. The learned physician, who no doubt has solved many problems in the medicine field, sat in the witness chair more or less perplexed. As direct a question as was placed before him as to whether two times two equals four, the physician gave his answer, "I wouldn't say you and I wouldn't say no." Then the lawyer was stumped but certain admissions early in the testimony made the physician's answer as perplexing as the unknown quantity problem. "How Old Was Ann?" or "Would You by Marrying Your Cousin Ever Become President?"

If you want to get some idea of how organized labor strikes back at the New Deal plan of freezing labor just look up a copy of the last issue of "The Labor Union", official AFL paper published in Dayton. The Union says the McNutt plan is a step stripping Americans of freedom of action. McNutt placed the orphan in Roosevelt's lap and all organized labor is keeping the White House gent on the spot. Organized labor is fighting regimentation of labor and opposes shipping laborers from one part of the country to another as a body for any purpose. Our guess is Roosevelt would lose the war before he would oppose either AFL or CIO leaders. As far as John L. Lewis and his united miners are concerned Roosevelt would not hesitate but when West Virginia miners voted against New Deal candidates to elect a Republican governor, senator and other officials in Democratic West Virginia, there might be such a thing as Roosevelt taking a second survey before even cracking down on John L. In the Roosevelt-Lewis bout, John L. won the last round election day.

A member of the rationing board in another county tells us each time an auto owner was turned down when he could not get a tube or casing, just that many made certain they had voted for the New Deal the last time. He described how both men and women, frowned, gritted their teeth in anger, some waved their hats others used vile language, just all this and more made it certain the New Deal was dead letter and election day proved he was right. We could see it in the fuel registration. We have heard it in the coffee registration. You are going to hear more when gasoline is rationed. Even two years will be a short time to another national election. No Roosevelt will ever overcome what has already been done. When meat, eggs and milk are rationed the flame of hatred will be fanned to the danger point. All this is the price the innocent must pay for the third term. The fellow that voted for it should not complain. He should be made to co-operate to the letter regardless of the inconvenience or the cost. The innocent always pay for the blunders in public life.

A large portly colored gent in overalls and a ten dollar bill in hand was asked in Springfield last Saturday by one who knew him where he was going with all that money. His answer was timely: "I've gonna get some meat in here, ten dollars worth, cause I ain't gonna let them guys down in Washington tell me I can't have my meat". And in the meat market both went. Evidently common labor will not be satisfied with 2-1-2 pounds per person a week. We hope the ration plan continues at least two years. There's a reason.

A week ago there was an important announcement from Washington. It was the discontinuance of the mass production of army captains from civilian ranks. After the New Deal turned out some 1,300 "Captains", most all of whom had never carried a gun or slept under a military puppet in the swamps. Whether the "militarism" ran out of material we are unable to say, other than the National Democratic committeeman will lose an opportunity to repay the New Deal faithful: Judging from the result of the Democratic vote at the last election, there is no need of a "militarism" for producing New Deal captains. There is no one to reward.

The Democrats tried hard to make capital out of the fact Gov. Bricker served in the First World War as a chaplain. The effort failed just as it did to elect a "volunteer" to congress because he wants to quit the army. Even the army uniform failed to do the trick. The history of the Roosevelt boys in the present war is yet to be written. One thing the Democratic press always overlooks, "Governor Bricker's father never found it necessary to provide a guardian by will to preserve the family estate." When the Governor is the next Republican nominee for president that will be time enough for comparison. Probably that is the reason Ohio has a $20 million cash surplus in the treasury and probably there is a reason why the nation faces the largest deficit in the history of the world.

A public school official looks upon the future with suspicion so far as Ohio schools are concerned. Gov. Bricker has a $20 million cash surplus for a rainy day but with the federal government proposing an 8 or 10 per cent federal sales tax and wipe out the authority of all states to use that means of tax collection, one can see the future picture of the schools is not bright. Moreover the official thinks when Roosevelt gets 10 million men in the army it is only a short time until the 16-17 class of boys will be called from school for the army. This would wipe out most all high schools. The state surplus the Democrats wanted spent now will not last long because the sales tax in the state would be wiped out. The property owner or renter hit heavy with income and other taxes would not want to take on more load by bond issues and special tax levies. It will not be long until those on public pay roll face a new situation due to the increases in taxes of all kinds.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for November 15

Lesson Text—Matthew 23:23-25; Mark 12:40. Golden Text—Beat ye ye another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.—Galatians 2:2.

THINGS THAT MAR FAMILY LIFE

Home is what you make it! Oh, yes, there may be circumstances which hinder us from doing what we would like—such as poverty, illness, unemployment, etc. These are things we cannot control and certainly they do have a bearing. But man or woman when of the right spirit can triumph over such matters and make even the poorest home the gateway to heaven. It is a matter of the attitude of heart and mind. Our lesson then is very practical, for it deals with those sins which most mar family life.

Whatever our circumstances may be, we can and must turn away from sin—and in this case, the sins which hinder the home from being what it ought to be. God has provided victory over sin through Christ for all who believe in Him. What then are the sins which stand as the enemies of the home?

I. Deceit (Gen. 27:30-35). Whatever the circumstances of the home may be, there can be absolute honesty and candor in the dealings between members of the family. Our recent study of the story of Jacob and Esau showed us the sad consequences of the deceit practiced by Jacob and his mother in deceiving Esau. Many elements entered in, the favoritism of the mother toward one son, the envy that the brother had of his elder brother's birthright, the wicked scheming of mother and son to outwit the aged father—these are a very distressing picture of a home shot through with deceitfulness. To build anything of permanent value on such a foundation was quite impossible.

The family in which deceitful means are used by husband or wife to gain some advantage for self or a favored child is heading for the rocks and needs to turn about and get into the channel of truth and uprightness before it is too late.

II. Divorce (Matt. 5:31, 32). One of the most destructive elements of modern life is that of divorce. Terrifying statistics could be quoted, but they are not nearly as moving as the knowledge most of us have of broken homes, delinquent children, decadent morals, etc., and needless to say, the victims of this deadly evil are primarily the children who are sent on into life with disordered minds and hearts.

Jesus declared that the decree of divorce allowed by Moses was not an abrogation of God's original law in this matter. Because of the "hardness of their hearts" (Mark 10:4) Moses permitted it, but the standard of God was and (note this please!) is unchanged.

Marriage, we saw in our lesson of November 1, is God's plan for the perfect union of the man and woman whereby the two become one in the sight of God. That means that the tie is not one to be dissolved, will or on some purely legal ground; it is an inseparable union.

The only exception recognized by Scripture (v. 32) is that act of unfaithfulness which is such a breach of the holy union as to virtually destroy it. Perhaps it might be called a recognition of the breaking of the union rather than an exception. Adultery is a heinous sin, an extremely serious violation of God's law. Let us press that fact home today when it is so lightly regarded in our sinful generation.

III. Desire (Luke 12:13-15). Money is necessary and may be a blessing, but the "love of money is the root of all evil" (1 Tim. 6:10). That is not just a verse in the Bible. It is the true picture of the thing which has destroyed the happiness of millions.

Here was a quarrel over an inheritance, and in meeting it our Lord laid down a principle which would solve all the money quarrels in every home—and they are endless in number and great in bitterness.

SELECTED SHORT SUBJECTS

Gasoline Rationing Postponed To Dec. 1

Gasoline rationing for Ohio has been postponed by the Washington Communists to an undisclosed date according to radio and news dispatches. Some say early in December.

Registration of auto owners has also been postponed until Nov. 18, 19 and 20. It had been set for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

All registration had been set for schools for this week for "A" books. Washington is all upset since the election and blame for a later date for rationing is placed on the printers.

The cost of rationing to start with is more than a $1,000,000 with thousands more to be added to the pay roll of Uncle Sam, all of which is paid for in what you call wear.

A cry of "No Gas, No Bonds" is sweeping the nation among motorists even in the states that have had it. Nearly every northern and eastern state that had rationing defeated the New Dealers at the polls November 3rd.

FARM BUREAU URGES RETURN TO OLD TIME

The Greene County Farm Bureau at a meeting in Xenia Wednesday night adopted resolutions urging a return to the old Eastern Standard time.

The county commissioners were asked to mark all county roads. Ask that real estate reappraisal be eliminated during the war. Supports the 65 per cent requirement for bond and tax levies.

Urges prohibition of any kind of liquor advertising in all forms. The Bureau decries the charge farmers brought on inflation as stated by the President. Against the forty-hour week labor law. Wants deferment of farm labor under the draft.

The sale of war bonds was approved with a pay-as-you-go policy but demands a more rigid economy, even in the operation of the Agricultural Department in Washington, now a haven for Communist followers.

CLUB AT BRIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Edwards and Mrs. Esta Williams entertained members of the Sunnyside Club at their home Wednesday evening. LOCAL AVIATION CADET MARRIED LAST SATURDAY

An impressive wedding ceremony was solemnized last Saturday in the chapel at 5 o'clock, Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala., when Miss Anne Diggs of Clinton, Tenn., became the bride of Aviation Cadet, Max Dobbins of this place.

Chaplain J. E. Flynn officiated at the double ring service at which Mrs. Joseph Trice, Clinton, Tenn., was matron of honor and Mr. Joseph Trullous, of Montgomery was best man.

For her marriage the bride chose an afternoon frock of white crepe, fashioned with a long torso. She wore a brown hat with a short veil and carried a white prayer book, with white roses attached to white ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Trice wore an afternoon dress of blue crepe, with harmonizing accessories, and carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. W. E. Diggs, of Clinton, mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dobbins, Cedarville, parents of the bridegroom; Mrs. John Ault, wife of Lieut. Ault, Maxwell Field, formerly of this place, and a group of friends of the bridegroom from Maxwell Field.

Following the service a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Trullous. Mr. Trullous is a salesman for the Burroughs Adding Machine Co., with which Cadet Dobbins was associated before he entered army service.

Cadet and Mrs. Dobbins left Saturday evening on a short wedding trip. They were to return to Montgomery this week and Mrs. Dobbins will remain there until Cadet Dobbins completes his training.

Mrs. Dobbins is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Diggs of Clinton, near Knoxville, and was honored at a series of parties preceding her marriage. Friends in Clinton and Knoxville arranged a luncheon, a china-crisp tea, a dinner-bridge and a "pink and white" party in her honor.

Cadet Dobbins, prior to being accepted as an aviation cadet in August, was employed by the Burroughs Adding Machine Co., and was stationed in the Knoxville area five years.

WATKINS this starting line-up during the last few games of that season. Watkins is another big, rangy fellow. Roy Hurley, a teammate of Compton at Spring Valley last year, was a stellar member of the reserve team and was used as a substitute on the varsity.

The size of the squad is fairly well proportioned. Four of the boys are really big while the rest have fair size except Van Horn and Merritt who make up for it with their sharp-shooting and speed. Coach Dorman expressed high hopes for a successful season.
